One paper on A&HCI is equivalent to one paper on SSCI or 1.5 theses on SCI; One paper published on TSSCI or the new THCI (which was changed in 2016; originally THCI Core) is equivalent to one paper published on SCI; only papers that were published may be counted.

The three-year timeframe shall cover the period dating back from the application end date.

Article 4 Application and appointment process:

- (I) This incentive is processed once a year, and the application period shall be based on the date announced in an official document. The applicant shall fill out the application form and submit the list of academic publications, copies of important publications, detailed academic achievement certifications, and other related documents from the past five years (excluding parental leaves taken), which will be submitted to the Office of Research and Development after gaining approval from the college dean. Those who have voluntarily suspended from work or temporarily seconded to work in another unit are not eligible to apply.
- (II) Appointments of excellent faculty members of all ranks are made by the Review Committee, for which the President is the ex officio member and convener, and invites scholars with outstanding academic achievements in relevant fields. Review Committee meetings are regularly convened, and applications passed in a committee meeting will be submitted to the President for approval and appointment. Recipients who have yet to attain the status of professor will not be given distinguished titles, but compensated with an equivalent sum of incentives. However, the president may assign distinguished roles on a case-by-case basis under special circumstances.

Article 5 Ratio of recipients (number of individuals to maintain the honorary title):

- (I) NTNU Chair Professor: The number of recipients shall not exceed 3% of NTNU's total full-time faculty.
- (II) Research Chair Professor: The number of recipients shall not exceed 5% of NTNU's total full-time faculty.
- (III) Distinguished Professor: The number of recipients shall not exceed 7% of NTNU's total full-time faculty.
- (IV) Outstanding Professor: The number of recipients shall not exceed 9% of NTNU's total full-time faculty.

Article 6 Rewards and Term:

- (I) Excellent faculty members of all ranks will receive the following grants during their term:
 - 1. Appointed as a NTNU Chair Professor: A monthly grant of NT$300,000-NT$400,000 for meeting the conditions specified in Article 3, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph 1, Item 1. A monthly grant of NT$210,000-NT$290,000 for meeting the conditions specified in Article 3, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph 1, Item 2. A monthly grant of NT$120,000-NT$200,000 for meeting the conditions specified in Article 3, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph 1, Item 3. A monthly grant of NT$90,000-NT$110,000 for meeting the conditions specified in Article 3, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph 1, Item 4. A monthly grant of NT$60,000-NT$80,000 for meeting the conditions specified in Article 3, Paragraph 1, Subparagraph 1, Items 5-8. If the faculty member meets conditions for promotion, the amount of the grant is reviewed during the application period each year.
 - 2. Appointed as a Research Chair Professor: A monthly grant of NT$40,000-NT$50,000.
 - 3. Appointed as a Distinguished Professor: A monthly grant of NT$20,000-NT$30,000.
 - 4. Appointed as an Outstanding Professor: A monthly grant of NT$10,000-NT$20,000.
 - 5. The amount of grants above is determined based on NTNU's budget and the recipient's contribution to NTNU.
- (II) The term of NTNU Chair Professor and grants is until retirement or resignation. The term for remaining levels of excellent faculty member is three years. A new application must be submitted and reviewed after the end of each term, and corresponding grants are provided for each level. If the faculty member does not pass the review, then grants will no longer be provided. Faculty members will retain their honorary title after being appointed a NTNU Research Chair Professor or Distinguished Professor until they receive a higher level honorary title. During their period of appointment, they receive free parking in NTNU, and their children can study in the affiliated senior high school of NTNU with priority entry. Upon the expiration of their term, an application for renewal may be submitted in accordance with Article 4 of the Policy. Persons who resign, retire, or are dismissed or involuntarily suspended in the duration of their distinguished roles shall have all incentives and privileges terminated. Those who have voluntarily suspended from work or temporarily transferred to work in another unit shall have incentives discontinued for the duration of absence, and resumed upon reinstatement. If the faculty member receives grants for a higher level, the original grant will be automatically discontinued. If the recipient concurrently obtains other chair professorships outside NTNU, the recipient may only receive grants under this Policy after the chair professorship ends.

- (III) Faculty members who are also eligible for MOST/NSTC subsidies for outstanding talent may only choose one. Any shortfall of MOST/NSTC subsidies will be made up by grants under the Policy.

Article 7 Performance requirements:

- (I) In addition to teaching and research, the performance of excellent faculty members is also determined by consultation and review services for academic activity subsidies, assisting in academic workshops organized by NTNU, and sharing teaching and research experience.
- (II) Submit an annual performance self-assessment to the Review Committee, which provides the basis for the next year's incentives.
- (III) Those who have been rewarded should submit his or her research results to the Department of Research and Development's publications or post on the website before applying next time.

Article 8 Teaching, research, and administrative support:

- (I) Teaching:
 1. Excellent faculty members may apply for teaching assistants according to NTNU's Teaching Assistance Guidelines.
 2. NTNU's Center for Teaching and Learning Development provides a number of supports, such as the Instructors' Manual, Teaching Resource Manual, and Digital Platform Manual.
- (II) Research:
 1. Excellent faculty members may apply for reduced teaching hours according to NTNU's policy.
 2. Excellent faculty members may apply for the various academic subsidies offered by NTNU to support their research efforts and innovations.

(III) Administration: Excellent faculty members may receive support such as laboratory space, IT equipment, a digital teaching environment and technical services, and are encouraged to make use of the digital teaching platform.

Article 9 Source of funds:

(I) Incentives shall be funded by funds raised by NTNU and funding approved by government projects.

(II) Funds or periodic donations from corporations, private enterprises, or charitable organizations or individuals. Regulations shall be separately prescribed.

Article 10 This Policy was implemented after being passed with resolutions sought from an Academic Meeting. The same applies to all subsequent amendments.
